

CASE HISTORY

Norvet Home Construction
Florida

(28) MH325BR Set to depth of 28 Feet

New construction residence on a bay in Florida near Destin. Most homes in this area are built on wooden driven piles. The vibration of new construction was a concern for the neighboring houses. Helical piles were chosen as an alternate as they produce very little ground vibration and heavy equipment isn't needed.

800-822-7437 | www.magnumpiering.com

MAGNUM PIERING
designed to support